Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, property owned by churches or religious or benevolent associations, including benevolent nursing homes and retirement homes for the aged, is exempt from the property tax. Under this bill, property owned by churches or religious or benevolent associations and used as low-income housing is exempt from the property tax. Under the bill, low-income housing is any residential housing unit within a low-income housing project occupied by a low-income or very low-income person, as determined pursuant to the income limits published by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, or that is vacant and only available to such persons.

Under current law, if property that is exempt from property taxes is leased, the property retains its tax exemption if the property owner uses all of the leasehold income for maintenance of the leased property or construction debt retirement of the leased property, or both, and, except for residential property, if the lessee would be eligible for the exemption if the lessee owned the property.

Under the bill, leasing property that is low-income housing does not make the property taxable if the property owner uses all of the leasehold income for certain expenditures directly related to the low-income housing project to which the property belongs, except that the property owner may, generally, use up to 10 percent of the leasehold income for certain expenditures, or any amount for debt service, directly related to any other low-income housing project under the owner's control that is located in this state. Eligible expenditures include maintenance, capital replacements, insurance premiums, project management, debt retirement, moneys reserved for project-related purposes, general and administrative expenses, social services and other resident services, utilities, financing costs, any other expenditure related to preserving and managing the project, and any other similar expenditure.

Because this bill relates to an exemption from state or local taxes, it may be referred to the Joint Survey Committee on Tax Exemptions for a report to be printed as an appendix to the bill.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
